

Aishwarya Rajinikanth's Lal Salaam release date OUT; Kapil Dev part of the movie

There has been much hype surrounding Aishwarya Rajinikanth's upcoming directorial venture, Lal Salaam. The film features Vishnu Vishal and Vikranth in the lead roles and is said to have cameos by Rajinikanth, and Kapil Dev, among others.

In the most recent update, the makers of the film have announced that the film is all set to hit the big screen on Pongal, 2024. The Production House, Lyca Productions, took to their social media account to share the update, with the caption: "LAL SALAAM to hit screens on PONGAL 2024"

Lal Salaam is said to be a sports drama film that was written and directed by Aishwarya Rajinikanth. The film marks Aishwarya's fourth directorial venture after 3, in 2011, which featured Dhanush. Previously, the filmmaker has also worked on Vai Raja Vai in 2015, and the documentary film Cinema Veeran in 2017. The project was announced in November last year, via social media, where the helmer revealed that Vishnu Vishal and Vikranth would play the lead roles, with the former portraying the character of a cricketer. It was also announced that Rajinikanth would be playing a cameo role in the film.

The production for the film began in March 2023, with the shooting taking place in Chennai, Mumbai and Pondicherry. It was also revealed that Kapil Dev would be playing himself in a cameo role as well. In May, Rajinikanth and Kapil Dev were seen together shooting for the film.

Additionally, the Jailer star shared a picture with the cricketing legend, calling it a 'privilege' to be working with him.

The music for Lal Salaam has been composed by AR Rahman, while Vishnu Rangasamy cranks the camera. Pravin Baskar acts as the editor for the film. A Pongal release for the film also means that it would lock horns with Mahesh Babu's Guntur Kaaram, scheduled to release on January 12, and Ravi Teja's Eagle, which is set to hit the silver screens on January 13.

Jee Le Zaraa: Priyanka Chopra the reason behind Alia, Katrina film getting shelved?

Now this is indeed disappointing and how, the day the makers announced Jee Le Zaraa, starring Alia Bhatt, Priyanka Chopra, and Katrina Kaif as the lead, fans were enthralled. But the delays had led to a huge disappointment, and now once again, the news of the film is making headlines, and this time the reason is claimed to be Priyanka Chopra. As per the latest reports, PeeCee wasn't very happy with the script of the film, and hence it has been shelved. It was BollywoodLife that exclusively told you about the film getting shelved during Alia Bhatt's pregnancy, and the rumours are also rife that Katrina Kaif is expecting her first baby, and even Priyanka Chopra had embraced motherhood a year ago.

And now going by the latest reports it seems Priyanka Chopra isn't very keen to go ahead with the film. A close source to HT reveal that Priyanka didn't like the script and said a direct no to it. "The truth is that Priyanka Chopra did not like the script and said to no it. She was supposed to come to India for sister Parineeti Chopra's wedding and at the same time sign the film's contract. But things could not be taken ahead because there were creative differences".

The film might not be made for another reason, as the date and time of the film have passed and the makers once again have to rewrite the script to be relevant.

However, Farhan Akhtar, who was going to direct the film, put an end to speculations earlier, claiming that the film is very much happening and Priyanka's dates have put them in tizzy. "We just have issues with dates, and the actor's strike that's happened has put Priyanka's dates into a huge tizzy with what can happen and what can't, so I've started genuinely believing that that film now has a destiny of its own. It'll happen when it has to, we'll see", told to Variety.

Saalar vs Dunki: Prabhas called unprofessional by fans for clashing with Shah Rukh Khan due to THIS reason

Saalar starring Prabhas is the most-awaited film of the superstar, and the constant delay was leaving his fans upset. A few days ago, it was announced that Saalar would be releasing in on December 22 2023, and since then, the clash between Saalar and Dunki has been making headlines on the internet. This will be the clash of titans, as it is the first time Shah Rukh Khan and Prabhas will be opposite each other, and the netizens are very keen to see who wins at the box office.

Having said that, Shah Rukh Khan fans are mighty upset with this clash and are slamming Prabhas for the same and calling the makers and everyone connected with the film unprofessional due to the fact that, despite knowing that Dunki is releasing on the same date, the makers chose the same day.

One user on Reddit slams Prabhas and commented, "Very unprofessional of Salaar makers to do so out of nowhere. If the same thing was done by SRK/Dunki makers then all hell would've been broken and people would've called SRK names." Another user wrote, "Stupidity by the makers of Salaar. Unfortunately both the movies will be affected".

Earlier, Saalar was supposed to release ahead of two weeks of Jawan, and it was claimed that the makers were worried about box office numbers getting affected, which is why they postponed, and now they are being questioned about why they are clashing with Dunki.

Prabhas and Shah Rukh Khan

are the real box office kings, but going by the past, the Baahubali star hasn't had mega hits, and this release is a box office litmus test for the superstar, but now that the film is releasing with Dunki, we wonder that it will affect the box office numbers as Shah Rukh Khan has been ruling and overpowering all the films at the box office with his latest release Jawan.

Will the makers postpone the release date of Saalar? Prashanth Neel is all geared up to begin the promotions of Saalar along with Prabhas and will promote it across the nation as they are ready to fight Shah Rukh Khan.

After the super success of OMG 2, Akshay Kumar to end the year with Mission Raniganj

Akshay Kumar starrer Mission Raniganj: The Great Bharat Rescue, which also marks his reunion with the National Award Winner Director Tinu Desai is gaining momentum with each passing day. The film, which is locked to release on Friday, October 6, 2023, and produced by Pooja Entertainment. This will be the last release of the actor in the year of 2023, as Akshay who started the year with Selfie and then recently released blockbuster film OMG2.

Following the release of OMG 2, the audiences started raving Akshay Kumar's performance as Lord Shiva in the film and hailed his script selection choice as he mirrored the society again with a content dominating film and it went on to collect 150 cores+ at the box office. The actor is all set to deliver another impactful cinema with the last film of the year, a story of an unsung hero Late Jaswant Singh Gill to the fans and the audiences.

It brings the larger-than-life story of Jaswant Singh Gill and his bravery to the big screens, and going through the recently released trailer, the rescue thriller promises a thrilling experience for viewers across the nation. With the film near to its release, has been the topic of discussion amongst everyone, and besides the trailer, the songs and the teaser also worked well.

The audiences are quite thrilled to watch their favourite actor in the character of Sar-daar for the fourth time after Singh Is Kinng, Singh Is Bling, Kesari and now Mission Raniganj. The hold of Akshay Kumar on the genre of real life story based drama is unmatched and he has proved it successfully from his previous releases like Airlift, Mission Mangal Gold, and Kesari

Talking about the hero of the nation, late Sardar Jaswant Singh Gill successfully conducted the largest coal mine mission and made a capsule to rescue 65 coal miners. For his bravery and heroism, he was also awarded the "World Book of Records" and the "Limca Book of Records." The hero of the nation did a jugaaad and created a steel capsule to save the 65 miners, and this capsule technique initiated by Jaswant Singh Gill was later adopted by foreign countries as well.
