

Tara Sutaria Shares 'Karma Is A B*tch' Book Pic Amid Ex Aadar Jain's Roka, Post Goes Viral

Hollywood actress Tara Sutaria has stirred up social media with her latest Instagram post. Tara shared a photo of her holding the book *Karma Is A B*tch* by Shome Mak, captioning it: "Just got my hands on @Shome-mak's new book. #KarmaIsAB*tch I cannot wait to start reading. Everyone grab your copy on Amazon now."

The book's cover teases themes of "lust, lies, and deadly consequences of betrayal," leaving fans wondering if the timing of her post was coincidental or deliberate.

Her post coincided with her ex-boyfriend Aadar Jain's roka ceremony with Alekha Advani. Videos from the ceremony have gone viral, showcasing Aadar celebrating alongside his family, including a heartfelt moment of him dancing with his brother.

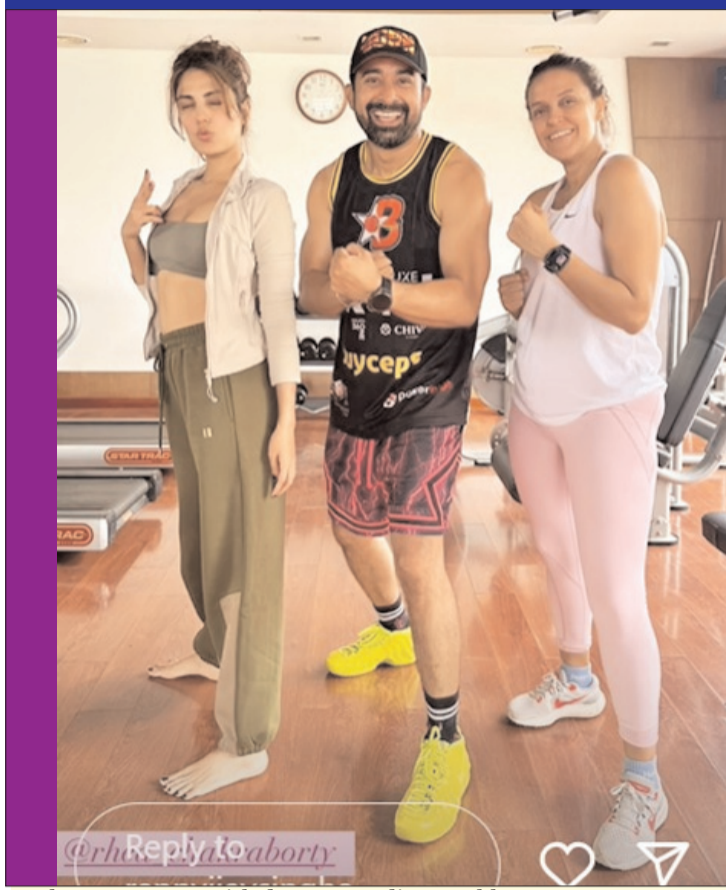

Tara's cryptic post has sparked speculation among fans, with many interpreting it as a subtle dig at Aadar. One user commented, "The timing is everything!" while another added, "Is she taking a dig?"

Aadar Jain and Alekha Advani got engaged in September this year. Sharing the joyous moment on social media, Aadar wrote, "My first crush, my best friend & now, my forever." The couple has been in the spotlight since their engagement, with fans eagerly following their love story.

Before dating Alekha, Aadar was in a relationship with Tara Sutaria. The two made several public appearances together and attended Kapoor family events, including Christmas celebrations and Armaan Jain's wedding. However, their relationship ended in 2023.

Interestingly, Alekha and Tara share a friendly history. The two reportedly had a close bond and followed each other on social media. Alekha even posted a picture with Aadar and Tara, humorously tagging herself as the "third wheel." Reports suggest Alekha accompanied the ex couple on a romantic trip to Paris in 2022.
