Kim Kardashian Under Fire From PETA For Giving Puppies As Presents

Kim Kardashian's Christmas celebration has sparked an unexpected controversy, with animal rights group PETA strongly criticising her choice of gifts for her children. The reality star came under fire after revealing that she had gifted puppies to all four of her kids during the holidays.

The 45-year-old shared on Instagram that each of her children — North West, 12, Saint, 10, Chicago, 7, and Psalm, 6 — received a Pomeranian as a Christmas present. She posted a photo of the four puppies cuddled together on her Instagram Stories and wrote, "Each kid got a puppy." The post quickly drew attention on social media, with many users questioning the message it sent about pet ownership.

Soon after, PETA weighed in on the issue. Speaking to the Daily Mail, PETA founder Ingrid Newkirk criticised Kardashian's decision, saying, "It's a damn shame that Kim missed the chance to be a spokesperson for shelter pups and instead is being rightly slammed on social media for that."

Newkirk added that Kardashian could have used her influence to support animal welfare initiatives instead, suggesting that she fund "a local shelter adopt-a-thon or at least one spay day to help stop the growing homeless puppy crisis." She further said, "Ignoring the homeless animals crisis is inexcusably callous," and urged the SKIMS founder "to call PETA or a local shelter the next time [she] wants to bring an animal into [her] home." Newkirk also suggested that Kardashian could "make some amends now by sending their kids to volunteer at a local shelter."

PETA's criticism did not stop with Kim Kardashian. Newkirk also took aim at her sister

Khloé Kardashian for buying a black Labrador puppy.

Khloé Kardashian, 41, shares her daughter True, 7, and son Tatum, 3, with her former partner Tristan Thompson. Kim Kardashian shares all four of her children with her ex-husband Kanye West.

Apart from the puppies, Kardashian also shared a family photo from Christmas, showing her children dressed in matching SKIMS pyjamas, adding to the festive moments she documented from the holiday season.

Abhishek Malhan, Jiya Shankar To Get Engaged? Here's What We Know

Abhishek Malhan and Jiya Shankar are planning to get engaged? Well, the latest report says so. Fukra Insaan, also known as Abhishek Malhan, and actress Jiya Shankar were part of the same Bigg Boss season. The two were part of Bigg Boss OTT 2, and inside the house, they grew closer, leading to relationship rumours. People started linking them together, and the two also did a song video together, adding fuel to the link-up rumours.

It was in 2024 when the duo officially ended their association and clarified that they had never been more than friends. But almost a year later, these rumours surrounding their relationship have started generating headlines yet again.

Telly Khazana tweeted, "It's official! Fukra Insaan and Jiya Shankar have made their relationship public, and reports say an engagement could be on the way. Wishing this cute couple love and happiness always (sic)."

Despite these ongoing speculations surrounding Abhishek and Jiya's relationship, there has been no official confirmation from either of them, but they have not rubbed these rumours either. To note, the two do not follow each other on Instagram.

When Jiya Shankar reacted to link-up rumours with Abhishek, "Saying this for ONE LAST TIME to whoever it concerns! I've got nothing to do with Fukra Insaan or these meme pages. We shared nothing but friendship, & even that no longer exists. I don't even follow any of these meme pages or have any knowledge of how this works. I always assumed them making this sort of stuff for views," or I've no idea if someone pays for this s***, but if the blame comes on me with nasty comments on my character & family, then hear it, panda gang, I'M SELF MADE, LOUD & PROUD! I'm because of ME and not because of anyone else. Way above these CHEAP STUNTS! So stay in your lane & keep my mother's & my name out of your filthy mouths," Jiya wrote while reacting to the link-up rumours in 2024.

On the work front, apart from Bigg Boss OTT 2, Jiya Shankar has been a part of multiple shows like Pishachi, Kaatela and Sons, Laal Ishq, Meri Haanikar Biwi, and Queens Hain Hum. She also rose to prominence with her appearance in the Marathi film Ved alongside Riteish Deshmukh.

Ananya Panday Loves To Party But Not Without Her 'Girl Squad'

After the release of the rom-com Tu Meri Main Tera Main Tera Tu Meri, Ananya Panday took some time off from her busy schedule to attend a wedding. Taking to her Instagram story on Monday, December 29, the actress shared a peek at the celebrations, which featured her gal pals. All of them were dressed to the nines for the occasion.

Ananya, who posted the picture with a red heart and sparkle emojis, was seen posing alongside her girl squad at the wedding ceremony. The group stood in front of a temple decorated with lights, flowers, and lamps. The collage also featured a close-up group photo of all the women, in which the Call Me Bae star was smiling brightly.

The 27-year-old actress opted for an orange-coloured bandhani kurta set. The multi-thread hand-embroidered long kurta featured gold mirror and cutdana detailing with a coral tissue silk dupatta. She completed her desi fit with a pair of golden chandbalis, a small bindi, and a gajra-adorned sleek bun. Ananya chose a subtle, dewy makeup to finish off her look.

Main Tera Tu Meri, which also starred Kartik Aaryan. The post began with the actress dressed in a heavy traditional outfit, completed with heavy pieces of jewellery. The following images show the actress wearing bralette-style tops with shorts at various locations. Another showed a board featuring different looks of Ananya from the film.

In one picture, she was also seen wearing a vibrant red dress with a matching scarf. Ananya captioned the photos, "How much of Rumi is too much of Rumi. I loved shooting this film, and I hope you guys have so much fun this festive season with us in the cinemas, watch
