

Poonam Pandey Reveals Blocking A Cricketer Who Called Her 'Cute' In DM: 'He Kept Messaging Me'

Actress and model Poonam Pandey keeps hitting headlines every now and then. She is known for the controversies surrounding her personal and professional life. Now, she has yet again made a new claim in a new interview, surrounding cricketers and actors who often reach out to her on social media. Here's what she said...

In a recent interview with Film Window, Poonam spoke about the messages she gets on her DM. When she was asked if she gets DMs from people from verified handles, who are well-known, she was quick to admit that she gets messages from popular and famous personalities. Without revealing the identities, Poonam said that a lot of players and stars have messaged her. Recalling one such incident, she revealed, "One cricketer wrote, 'You look very cute.' He kept messaging me. I had to block him."

When further asked if these cricketers approach her with serious intentions, she responded, "The kind of messages I get, it doesn't seem like they're serious. To be honest, it feels like they just want to hang out with me. Sometimes I have to ignore them because I wonder who they think they are. I'm sure other girls like me are getting messages."

Meanwhile, Poonam's recent post sparked dating speculations. A day before Valentine's Day, she posted romantic pictures with a mystery man without revealing his face. Along with the lovey-dovey pictures, the actress wrote, "This is my happy space."

Her post garnered a lot of attention. Her well-wishers were seen congratulating her. The actress is yet to reveal his identity.

Earlier, Poonam was married to her longtime beau, Sam Bombay. They tied the knot in 2020, but soon after, she filed a complaint against him in Goa for assault, harassment, and threatening her. They patched up later, but eventually ended up separating. Poonam described the relationship as abusive.

'Do Deewane Seher Mein' Mrunal Thakur, Siddhant Chaturvedi Are Ready For The Releas

Actors Mrunal Thakur and Siddhant Chaturvedi are currently busy promoting their upcoming film Do Deewane Seher Mein. The romantic drama is set to release on February 20, and the team has already begun an online countdown, building excitement among fans.

The film follows two socially awkward millennials living in Mumbai who unexpectedly find love. As they deal with self-doubt and the pressure to fit into society's expectations, their journey slowly unfolds. What begins in the chaos of city life gradually moves towards the calm of the mountains, reflecting their inner search for peace and acceptance. The story promises a mix of romance, vulnerability and quiet self-discovery. Directed by Ravi Udyawar, the film is backed by filmmaker Sanjay Leela Bhansali as producer. <

Siddhant recently shared a post on social media as the release date came closer. His caption read, "I need some Lucknow! 4 days to go." The playful line caught attention and hinted at the city playing a role in promotions. Mrunal also joined in the countdown. She posted a picture on her Instagram story holding up two fingers, writing, "2 more days to go."

Their steady online updates have kept fans engaged. Many have been re-sharing the posts and expressing excitement about seeing the fresh pairing on screen. With just days left for release, the buzz around Do Deewane Seher Mein continues to grow.

In an interview with ETV, Mrunal Thakur shared how Sanjay Leela Bhansali helped with the title of Do Deewane Seher Mein. She said, "Seher means dawn, the first light that removes darkness. The word carries a distinctly earthy touch and simplicity. It perfectly aligns with the emotional world of our story. The title also echoes the spirit of the old song Do Deewane Shaher Mein, which has a deep connection with Mumbai."

She added, "The title was suggested by Sanjay Leela Bhansali. In the film, the character Shashank cannot pronounce, "sh", properly and says 'seher' instead of "shaher". It's a playful narrative detail that symbolises a fresh beginning and the dawn of love."

Rubina Dilaik looked absolutely stunning in a sky blue bikini with gold detailing. She completed her look with a sexy loose bun and some gold jewellery. In the photo, Rubina can be seen climbing the stairs to the swimming pool most probably.

Workers Association Condemns Safety Violations On Dhurandhar 2 Sets: 'Nobody Is Above Law'

The All India Cine Workers Association (AICWA) has condemned the repeated and alarming safety violations reported on the shooting set of the upcoming film 'Dhurandhar 2'. The film, helmed by Aditya Dhar, stars Ranveer Singh in the lead. It has come under the scanner of the authorities for regular violation of safety protocols during the filming. In fact, the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) has also sought blacklisting Aditya Dhar's production house B62 Studios.

In a letter, AICWA has addressed its concerns and has slammed the production unit of the upcoming film. They wrote, "The life, safety, and dignity of film industry workers, technicians, and labourers cannot be compromised under any circumstances. For several years, AICWA has consistently raised serious concerns that many production houses continue to ignore mandatory safety norms, legal regulations, and basic human protection on shooting sets. Due to such gross negligence, every year several workers lose their lives, while many others suffer severe injuries caused by fires, electric shocks, and collapsing or unsafe sets. Tragic incidents at Goregaon Filmcity and other studios, where workers lost their lives due to fire and unsafe working conditions, remain painful reminders of the ongoing danger faced by film workers".

AICWA has repeatedly submitted written complaints to the Honourable Chief Minister of the State and the Honourable Commissioner of the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC), demanding strict enforcement of safety regulations and strong legal action against production houses violating the law.

They further mentioned, "AICWA firmly supports the action taken by the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) against B62 Studios. Such strict measures are necessary because no production house is above the law.

When safety norms are ignored, thousands of workers are put in danger.

In Mumbai alone, hundreds of shootings take place daily, and a majority of production houses fail to properly follow mandatory legal and safety requirements."

"AICWA will continue to stand firmly with film industry workers and will not remain silent until strict safety enforcement becomes mandatory across the entire film industry," they added.

Richa Chadha Meets French President Emmanuel Macron, Discusses 'Making Independent Cinema Feasible'

Actor Richa Chadha met French President Emmanuel Macron during an official engagement aimed at fostering dialogue between leaders and members of India's creative and film fraternity. The meeting was part of a series of conversations, and the gathering included Bollywood and film personalities such as Richa Chadha, filmmaker Neeraj Ghaywan, Zoya Akhtar, and Shabana Azmi, among others.

Talking about meeting the French president, Richa Chadha shared, "I was thrilled to meet the French President, Mr. Macron, along with his wife, Brigitte, as a part of the artistic community from the film fraternity. Together, we had a lively discussion on what could be done to make independent cinema more feasible in both our nations. I personally am very grateful for the French CNC's contribution in my career, both as an actor and a producer. Because Masaan and Girls Will Be Girls were both official Indo French Co Productions. Payal Kapadia's film, which won the top most honour at Cannes, is also an Indo French Co Production."

Macron, accompanied by France's First Lady Brigitte Macron, shared several snapshots of the meeting on X.
