

Rakul Preet Singh Weighs In On 'One-Time Cheating' In Relationships: 'Life Is Too Long To Not Forgive'

Rakul Preet Singh is currently enjoying love and appreciation coming her way for her performance in the film Patni Aur Woh Do. Directed by Mudassar Aziz, the film also stars Ayushmann Khurrana, Sara Ali Khan and Wamiqa Gabbi in key roles. Amid the positive reactions from the audience, Rakul recently spoke about cheating and forgiveness in relationships. Her comment came days after her husband, Jackky Bhagnani, jokingly described his marriage to her as a "situationship." In a recent interview, Rakul admitted that "one-time cheating" could, in some cases, be forgiven, but she also made it clear that cheating is ultimately "not okay."

While speaking to Mashable India, the cast of Patni Aur Woh Do was asked if cheating can ever be acceptable in a relationship. Rakul Preet Singh was quick to respond with a firm "no." Sara Ali Khan said, "I mean the least you can do is say sorry, but it is definitely not okay." Ayushmann Khurrana added, "Marriage has its own rules. At the same time, if sorry has been said genuinely, then why not?" A visibly shocked Rakul reacted and asked, "Cheating kar ke?"

Ayushmann clarified his point and said, "People make mistakes. It may be genuine." Rakul went on to add, "It also depends on what is the extent... What is the extent? If cheating is a habit..." Before Rakul Preet Singh could finish her point, Sara jumped in and asked, "One-time cheating is okay?" Rakul quickly clarified her stance, saying, "I am not okay." She and Ayushmann Khurrana then reiterated together that cheating is "not okay," with Ayushmann further emphasizing, "Primarily, it is not okay."

The De De Pyaar De actress further elaborated, "But if somebody can have a slip, life is too long to not forgive for one mistake." She quickly clarified that the statement had nothing to do with her own marriage, adding, "This doesn't apply to my personal relationship. Please note." Ayushmann supported her stance and said, "Humans make mistakes. But if they are genuinely apologetic about it, and if you feel for that person... life is too long." Sara, meanwhile, admitted, "I might forgive but not forget." Rakul responded, "But I think if you forgive then you will have to forget," to which Sara concluded: "That's where it gets tricky."

Earlier, in an interview, Jackky's "situationship" comment took social media by storm. He said, "Rakul and I are married, but we are like in a situationship, which is, of course, we are exclusive to each other because that's why we are married. But the most important thing is that I can talk to her about anything." Social media was surprised with his comment, and it led to many thinking if things are not well between them. However, Rakul posted a playful video later, making Jackky hold his ears. In the video she was heard saying, "Kitne baar bola hai isko, that we are millennials... Gen Z banne ki zarurat nahi hain! Bola tha na."

Ruchi Gujjar Urges PM Modi To End 'Ghunghat Pratha' At Cannes: 'Women Deserve Equal Freedom'

Bollywood actress Ruchi Gujjar made a bold statement during the 79th Cannes Film Festival, using the global platform to raise her voice against the age-old Ghunghat Pratha still prevalent in several parts of rural India. She even urged Prime Minister Narendra Modi to take strong action towards ending the age-old practice as a major step towards promoting women's freedom and equality.

Coming from Rajasthan, Ruchi chose to use her Cannes appearance not just as a fashion moment, but to raise a social issue. She opted to appear on the red carpet in a traditional Rajasthani-inspired outfit with a dramatic ghunghat veil. Her attire featured intricate embroidery, accompanied by heavy jewellery, and cultural Rajasthani elements, merging heritage with activism.

Not just that, she even carried the BJP's symbolic lotus flower (Kamal) during her appearance. According to Ruchi, the lotus symbol is a representative of her belief that strong leadership and social awareness are needed to bring a change in society. Showing her faith in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership, she stated that she believes meaningful reforms can help women living under restrictive traditions gain confidence and freedom.

Speaking during the festival, Ruchi said, "Ghunghat should never become a woman's identity. Women deserve equal freedom, respect, and opportunities in society. I believe Prime Minister Narendra Modi Ji has always taken bold decisions for the country, and I hope steps will also be taken to create awareness against forced Ghunghat Pratha."

Her bold appearance instantly garnered a lot of attention on social media, with users praising her confidence and fearless stand. Many netizens termed her Cannes appearance as bold and socially impactful, with a strong message for women's empowerment. She has effectively used cinema and fashion as a powerful medium for spreading awareness and bringing out a positive change in society. Ruchi is often seen speaking about women's issues connected to rural traditions.

Cannes 2024 has finally kick-started and celebs from all around the globe will be seen gracing the red carpet with their stunning looks. Amid the glitz and glamour of the ongoing 2024 Cannes Film Festival, a look at the unforgettable presence of Sunny Leone at last year's edition.

Internet Can't Calm As They Spot Mahima Chaudhry's Lookalike In Off Campus

Ever since it premiered on May 13, Prime Video's new series Off Campus has generated significant chatter across social media, with fans constantly sharing edits, clips, and reactions from the show. While the crackling chemistry between the lead pair continues to dominate conversations, another standout drawing attention is Allie Hayes, portrayed by Mika Abdalla. Interestingly, many viewers online have pointed out that the actor bears an uncanny resemblance to Bollywood actress Mahima Chaudhry.

An Instagram user shared a video of Mika Abdalla dancing in the series and wrote, "Plot twist: Mahima Chaudhry's real daughter was in Off Campus all along." The video also featured pictures of Mahima Chaudhry from her younger days. Have a look:

Soon after the video was shared, fans flooded the comments section. One fan wrote, "that's what I thought too. she is just replica of her. that side look." Another fan wrote, "Fr bhyiii !!! this was literally the first thought came in my mind." A third fan wrote, "True bro she does look like Mahima Chaudhry." One of the comments also read, "Damn!!! Finally someone said it out loud... My thoughts exactly." One of the users wrote, "I thought I was the only one who thought she looked exactly like Mahima Chaudhry!!" Others also agreed with the post.

In Off Campus, Mika Abdalla plays Allie Hayes, the close friend and roommate of Hannah Wells, portrayed by Ella Bright. The American college romance drama also features Belmont Cameli, Stephen Kalyn, Jalen Thomas Brooks, Antonio Cipriano, Josh Heuston and Steve Howey in key roles. Created by Louisa Levy, the series revolves around the romance between a music student and a star university hockey player, and is currently streaming on Prime Video.

Meanwhile, Mahima, who made her debut with Pardes opposite Shah Rukh Khan, was recently seen in Durlabh Prasad Ki Dusri Shaadi, alongside Sanjay Mishra.

Samay Raina Was 'Super Nervous' During India's Got Latent Alia Bhatt Episode, Insider Reveals

Alia Bhatt fans were recently left surprised after a viral photo claimed that the actress would be attending the first episode of Samay Raina's India's Got Latent 2. While there has been no official announcement regarding the same as of now, a social media user has revealed that Alia will indeed be attending IGL season two episode one.

Recently, a user named Roshan Sahu took to his Instagram handle and dropped a video claiming he attended the recently shot India's Got Latent 2 episode. "I was amongst the 80 people who attended this episode live and the show was terrific," he said.

Sahu confirmed that Alia Bhatt was the special guest on the episode and added, "I am a fan of Samay and I booked the ticket just to see raw Samay performing live. During the first 15 minutes of the show, when Samay was performing alone, recalling the incidents of season one, he looked super nervous but as the panel joined, he was in his full zone. The whole show was as hilarious as season one."

Reportedly, Alia Bhatt will be seen promoting her upcoming movie, Alpha, in India's Got Latent episode. The film, also starring Sharvari in the lead, is the first female-led installment of Yash Raj Films' Spy Universe. Alpha, which also features Anil Kapoor and Bobby Deol, is set to hit the theatres on July 10, 2026.

Meanwhile, Samay Raina confirmed the second episode of his controversial India's Got Latent during his 'Still Alive' act. "People keep asking me, will this show come back? I will bring the show, bro. I wanna do a wild, wild f**ing show. I'm gonna take away all your phones. And the first question I will ask the contestant, 'would you rather...?' And rahi baat India's Got Latent ki, log poochte rehte hain mujhe, kya yeh show wapas aayega? Let me rephrase that, I don't think issa high point pe mere show ka season 1 end ho sakta tha," he said.